

GLS Course List Spring 2017

The Global Learning Semester features interactive courses and engaging field trips within the local community. International students engage in co-curricular activities that deepen the experience of Chinese culture, develop camaraderie, and build confidence. Students make a difference - both inside and outside of the classroom.

Courses are taught in 7-week intensive sessions, except Chinese language, which is 14-weeks. Students select 4 courses for the semester.

CHINA STUDIES ■

China is center stage in today's global economy, playing a role in nearly every professional path you may take. Your education isn't complete without studying in China, where you will gain an understanding of Chinese culture through real immersion with Chinese students at Duke Kunshan University.

ENVIRONMENT & ENERGY ■

With its rapid economic growth and enormous population, China is playing a larger role in shaping the future of our global environment. To be a global citizen it is important to understand China's environmental challenges and how they relate to the global picture. Immerse yourself in Environmental Studies in China at Duke Kunshan University.

GLOBAL HEALTH ■

With its aging population, environmental conditions, rapid economic growth, and distinct social system, China faces enormous public health issues, which in turn affect the world. Studying Global Health at Duke Kunshan, you will learn about China's particular conditions and undertake special research projects that will give you a better picture of global health issues in a developing world.
