

Summer Schools at RWTH Aachen University, Germany

Spend an unforgettable time abroad in Germany at RWTH Aachen University

In RWTH Summer Schools, you take part in high-value classes and benefit from an entirely organized and comfortable stay. This includes your accommodation, two meals per weekday, topic-related excursions and fun-only city trips. Plus, you receive the personal support from local mentors who regularly study at RWTH Aachen University. This way, you become part of a global community and meet friends from all over the world!

Aachen is where history meets technology in the heart of Europe: Be part of a vibrant student life, discover the historic city center and visit unique places – even in Belgium or the Netherlands.

In class, you address current research topics ranging from engineering over production management to interdisciplinary subjects. Have a deeper look at the subjects on the website. Every Short Course combines fundamental theoretic concepts with hands-on classes, group work and interactive participation. The state-of-the-art academic content is rounded up by insights into German Industry:

- Institute, lab and company visits
- Expert talks with professors and industry partners
- Networking with German companies and organizations

Online Course at RWTH Aachen University, Germany

Expand your skills from home and have fun at the same time

You only have a limited time frame to broaden your horizon and cannot travel? No problem - the interactive Online Course on “Sustainable Supply Chain Management in Industry 4.0” gives you the freedom to learn, make connections to German industry and virtually meet new friends. In a business simulation game, you and your peers need to transform your virtual company’s linear value chain to a successful circular business model. As a result of the very practical, workshop-type units, you understand future workplaces with Industry 4.0 and make climate-sensitive decisions.

You enjoy a few hours of live sessions with the professors per day and have videos and reading materials to complete at your own pace whenever it suits you. You also want to learn more about Germany and Aachen? Easy: Just join the online social events and have intercultural meet-ups with your mentors.

RWTH Aachen University

Gain new insights at one of Germany’s elite universities

The institution is one of the most highly recognized technical universities in Europe. It is a place where innovative answers to global challenges are developed.

- Top-ranked in science and technology
- Member of IDEA League and TU9
- RWTH lecturers and experts connect you with future workplaces